

You cannot overturn New Jersey's Do Not Call List. This has been an incredible thing. Now, telemarketers do not bother me when I'm trying to eat dinner. I don't think telemarketers should be allowed to harrass people in their own houses. It's an invasion of privacy. They want their rights (to be able to harrass people), what about our rights, (not to be bothered at all hours of the day, especially at the most inopportune times).
